

Open Call for Papers

Plaza: Dialogues in Language and Literature, a peer-reviewed online graduate journal, is seeking scholarly articles that critically examine language, literature, culture, and pedagogy. We are particularly interested in essays that engage with current scholarship in the fields of literature, rhetoric, linguistics, composition, pedagogy, gender and sexuality studies, and cultural studies. Plaza publishes 15-30 page scholarly papers, works of creative nonfiction, visual art, and especially seeks work in multimodal formats.

Submit papers to <http://journals.tdl.org/plaza> by November 1, 2013 in order to begin the peer review process for Plaza issue 4.1.
